

A parent-led programme to improve the health and wellbeing of parents and carers of children and young people with SEND

The Healthy Parent Carers' programme is a free 6-week programme. It is designed to improve your health and well-being by promoting empowerment, confidence and resilience, and giving you some time to focus on your own needs. It was inspired by and coproduced with parent carers from the Family Faculty at the University of Exeter and will be led by trained parent-carers from the Our Voice team.

Parent carer health and wellbeing is often overlooked and parent carers rarely receive enough support. The programme can help you take small steps to improve your health and wellbeing. It is not a parenting course, or a course about getting support for your child – it is about you! Parent carers are very busy – but can you give yourself some time for you?

Our next course will run via Zoom every Tuesday from 6th June to 11th July 10 am – 1pm

Future courses will run on different days of the week, and we plan to run some courses face-to-face. Let us know your preferences when you sign up.

The course is open to any parent-carer of a child or young person aged up to 25, with SEND, living in the London Borough of Enfield (unless you have already previously completed the course with us). Each course lasts for 6 weeks and you will need to commit to attending all 6 weeks of the programme.

The course is designed for a small group, so numbers are strictly limited, but we plan to re-run this course every half of a term throughout the year, so if we are unable to offer you a place on the next course from June to July, we are likely to be able to find you a place on a later course.

Some of the courses will be run in person and others will be online – you can let us know your preferences when you register.

We also plan to provide translators who speak Turkish, Somalian and Bengali to help more people to access the course. Please let us know when you register if you would like a translator when you attend the course.
