We achieve this through:

- Enabling children and young people with social, emotional and mental health needs access appropriate support.
- Informing children, young people and their families about the Special Educational Needs and Disability reforms and their entitlements.

- Ensuring parents and carers have the knowledge to make decisions on the services and support their families' needs.
- Providing emotional and well-being support to children and young people in order that they are better able to manage their emotions and relationships within the school and external settings.

Our Mission and Vision Statement

Enfield SEND Information, Advice and Support Service (SENDIASS) is a statutory service commissioned by London Borough of Enfield in accordance with the SEND Code of Practice 2015.

It operates independently from the local authority. It provides impartial, confidential information, advice and support to children and young people between 0 and 25 years who have, or may have, SEN or a disability and to parents of children and young people with SEND. The service also facilitates parents' and young people's engagement in decision-making about special educational needs, provision and policies. Our parents' and young people's steering groups have continued to meet and advise the service on how to best reach families in the community.

UPDATE

Over the Summer period the SENDIASS Team will continue to be open for business. Whilst the office at Community House remains closed for the months of July & August, the SENDIASS Team have secured office space for every Thursday for the foreseeable future that will allow face-to face meetings with caseworkers, if so required. Please discuss this with your caseworker or the helpline advisor if you require a face to face meeting.

The SENDIASS helpline will continue to run as normal.

The helpline numbers are 07903 762008 or 07903 762009. If the phone is unanswered, please leave a message and one of the team will get back to you as soon as practicable. Please note that over the months of July & August, we have a much smaller team in the office because the majority of the teamwork term time only; please bear with us, as all of us are currently employed on part time contracts. Our usual team of trusted volunteers also take time off over the summer months, which means that we are again short staffed. Please be reassured that the staff remaining will endeavour to offer the best service that they can.

Our Voice – what we do

Our Voice is the recognised Parent/Carer Forum for the Borough of Enfield - a voluntary, parent led organisation supporting families with children who have a Special Educational Need and/or Disability, aged 0-25.

We aim to improve services for our families in Enfield by collaborating with the Local Authority and Health, as well as local and national Voluntary Sector Organisations and Schools. We are funded by the Department for Education via Contact (a national charity) but most of us work on a voluntary basis, and we are also a part of the national organisation, the National Network of Parent Carer Forums (NNPCF).

Since March this year we have been particularly busy providing support and information to parents and carers, many of whom have been facing huge challenges, and ensuring that their views and needs are fed back to the Local Authority and Health services. Although we normally officially only operate during term time, we plan to continue this work throughout the summer months, as we know that many families have been struggling, and that this will become more severe over the holiday period.

Our key activities at the moment are:

- Providing information, guidance and signposting to other services through our helpline, website and emails sent to our mailing list at least once a week.
- Gathering information about how parents are coping and what support they need through a survey and talking to them at our virtual events and one-to-one.
- Providing daytime and evening informal drop-in sessions ('Cuppa and Chat') for parents and carers to connect with each other to give mutual support, share experiences and discuss the challenges and issues they face.
- Running a series of videoconferences with invited guests from Local Authority and Health Service areas on a wide range of topics. We have already held sessions on Mental Health and Emotional Well-being, Short Breaks and Keeping Safe (with Public Health). Other sessions planned for the next months include Travel Assistance, Sleep, Positive Behaviour Support, Transition, Return to School and more.
- Monthly Zoom parties with a children's entertainer for our members children.
- We have continued to work with services across the LA on a wide range of existing and new projects, and make sure that they consider how parents and carers are affected by the decisions they make. We also give similar input to the government through the NNPCF.

If you are a parent or carer of a child or young person with SEND, please do get in touch with us and/or join our mailing list. Our contact details are: Telephone 07516 662315

Positive Behaviour Support Webinar for parents and carers

Tuesday 18th August at 1.30 – 3 pm

This videoconference session, organised by Our Voice Parent/Carer Forum, is for all parents and carers of children and young people (0-25) with special needs and/or disabilities living in Enfield.

The past few months have seen a constant stream of unprecedented change - people leaving their workplace to work from home, cancellation of children's clubs, activities and trips, schools closing... and all of this happened too fast for adults to be able to prepare children in the ways they usually would. Although as a parent of a child with challenging behaviours, you are probably already extremely skilled in many of the areas needed to get through this crisis, the necessary restrictions may have limited these strategies in many ways.

You may experience an escalation in behaviour that challenges during the time you and your family are together. We know that many children and adults find changes to their routines very difficult. We do not underestimate the impact being confined to your home will have on you and all members of your immediate family.

This Webinar will look at how parent/carers can use Positive Behaviour Support to help manage challenging behaviours at home during this exceptionally challenging time.

You can use a computer, tablet or smartphone to join this webinar, or you can phone in. The event is free but you must pre-book. See the Our Voice events page www.ourvoiceenfield.org.uk/events

If you need more in-depth support and would like to discuss your specific concerns around managing behaviour on an individual basis, please email Clare Redrupp (Short Breaks and Family Support Manager/PBS Coach) at cheviotsshortbreaks@enfield.gov.uk

Clare will then arrange a convenient time with you for your individual telephone consultation.

Tuesdays: 8.30 – 9.30 pm

18th August and 1st September.

Our Voice's online 'cuppa and chat' sessions are for all parents and carers of children and young people (aged 0-25) with special needs and/or disabilities living in Enfield.

Please join us for an informal chat session to talk with other parents and carers (including some of the Our Voice team) about how you are managing during this exceptionally challenging time, share your concerns and ask questions.

Information Provided by Enfield Council

Joint Service for Disabled Children - Short breaks

'Short Breaks' is a scheme provided by the Joint Service for Disabled Children to eligible families.

Short breaks provide the opportunity for children and young people to engage in play and leisure activities and support parents to have a break from their caring responsibilities.

A short break could be access to a holiday playscheme, an after school group, a grant to fund activities or services or support in the family home.

Referrals to the Joint Service for Disabled Children will continue to be processed.

Referrals need to be made by a professional that knows your child via the Children's Portal.

The children that have already been assessed by the JSDC and have previously been assessing short breaks have all been contacted to explore support options for this summer.

The following playschemes are running this summer:

- Cheviots Playscheme at Cheviots and Waverley School
- VIPS Playscheme at Bell Lane Youth Centre
- West Lea Playscheme at Meridian Site at Dysons Road
- ALWA Playscheme at Russet House School (Places may still be available ) contact Tiuidane Richards Tel no: 07940380819 Email: info@abundantlivingwithautism.org.uk

Children who are unable to attend the playscheme they usually do will be contacted to explore options that best meet the needs of their family. These will include short break grants or direct payments for this summer.

Families who are in receipt of a short break grant will be able to use up to £300 to purchase play equipment or activities for their child or can use up to £200.00 towards family holiday costs for their child.

Parents should ensure that there are sufficient funds available to fund activities up to the end of March 2021.

- The Youth Service are running The Summer University Programme this summer with fabulous activities for young people. <https://new.enfield.gov.uk/youth/>
- The Early intervention support service (EISS) has two Early Support keyworkers working over the summer break if families of young children on their caseload need advice or support during this time.

Our Open access Youth Centres in Enfield

Our Open access Youth Offer – through our five open access youth centre, we provide a safe environment where young people have access to informal learning opportunities, information and guidance around a whole range of issues meaning that they are better informed about life choices and the opportunities that are available to them. This provides young people with structured activities in which they can gain a range of nationally recognised awards and qualifications. Engage in positive activities such as multi-media, health and fitness, music, dance, issues-based workshop and many other, where they are able to gain transferable skills

YDS Outreach / Targeted Outreach

The Youth Development Service outreach team deliver outreach sessions in areas of the borough where youth violence and anti-social behaviour is causing a concern. The aims of the programme is to reduce antisocial behaviour, to build positive relationships with young people associating in the area and engage young people to attend their local youth clubs or other positive activities in the area, develop projects that positively engages young people in their chosen activities. Our Youth Workers go out into the community where young people are, this may be a housing estate, town centre location or in the park.

Targeted Youth Engagement

It is proposed that several strands of direct work with vulnerable young people are brought together to ensure an effective, efficient and high-quality Targeted Youth Engagement. The Targeted Youth Engagement Team (TYET) of the YDS will lead this work ensuring that a fully integrated model can be developed. This will ensure consistency of approach and build on existing excellent practice in youth engagement. This would create a single leadership and management structure for this work and ensures that child centred interventions blend together, mentoring, personal development and seamless exit strategies for children and young people who are at risk of exclusion, anti-social behaviour, reduce youth crime, serious youth violence and vulnerable and disadvantaged children and young people.

The Mentoring Service

Mentors provide support to young people by working on issues that are important to them. They support young people to make informed choices in their lives and enable them to meet their potential. The Mentoring Programme is a structured six-week Programme which provides a positive role model, personal development opportunities and positive life experiences. Through 1-2-1 engagement, advice and befriending the young person will work with their mentor on key areas identified by referrer and young person.

Early Invention Positive Activities

Early Invention Positive Activities, the YDS will play a key role in coordinating and providing diversional activities for young people on an order, at risk of offending, at risk of youth violence, low confidence or part of a holistic intervention. The referral process will be open to All youth-based organisations within the council. The YDS will be able to support young people who are vulnerable or at-risk of exclusion and encourage their participation in positive activities across the Enfield Borough. It will act as an exit strategy for service such Youth Offending service or children who are on CIN plan or CP plan used as a step down or just add value to the intervention and engage young person in positive activities.

Summer University

Summer University programme provides young people with high quality personal and social development opportunities and constructive leisure activities as a diversion from boredom whilst preventing engagement in risky behaviour. Key aim is to bring positive activities to young people in priority location hotspots identified with high prevalence of crime, serious violence and social deprivation, specifically focused on targeting eastern part of the Borough. Summer University activities are offered from a range of community venues, including youth centres, schools, libraries, leisure centres and outdoor spaces such as multi-use games areas.

<https://new.enfield.gov.uk/youth/>

Leadership Academy

The YDS coordinates and implements The Youth Leadership Academy (YLA). YLA is a programme which enables young people aged 13-19 who attend council and voluntary youth clubs and projects to gain formal recognition for their involvement as leaders in the design, delivery, evaluation and management of their Youth Centre and Projects.

A central feature of quality youth work practice is about ensuring young people have a voice, develop as positive citizens and are leaders in their communities. This includes providing young people with opportunities to take on roles of leadership and responsibility for the running of the youth work provision. We currently have a cohort of 25 young leaders involved in our Youth Offer:

Taking Care of Yourself and Your Family

Looking after your own needs

It's really important right now to take care of your own physical and mental health. You cannot take care of your child's needs by ignoring your own. Remember that children can be very perceptive, and they react to what they sense from the adults around them.

See next page for a range of useful resources for looking after your own and your child's mental health and wellbeing.

Tips for keeping healthy and happy

- Exercise – take some time every day to move. You could go for a walk or run. If it is difficult to get out, you'll also find lots of fitness videos/challenges online e.g. on YouTube. Find something you enjoy and that makes you feel good!
- Connect with others – maintain relationships with people you care about through phone and video calls (zoom, google hangouts, facetime, house party are great apps to do this)
- Eat healthy meals – try to keep a well-balanced diet and drink enough water
- Vitamin C- ensure you are taking in plenty of vitamin C which is proven to strengthen your immune system.
- Get some sleep – being anxious or worried can have a big impact on your sleep. If you're struggling to get a good night's sleep, try to develop a calming bedtime routine – for example, do 10 minutes of yoga or listen to calming music. There are also apps you can download that provide guided meditation to help you get to sleep more quickly
- Turn off the news – it's important to keep up to date, but the 24-hour news cycle can make you more anxious. Limit your exposure to the news to only a small amount of time, just enough to know what the latest government guidance is
- Do things you enjoy – now that we're all spending more time at home, we can finally take up that hobby we've always meant to learn. Try baking or gardening or learning to knit. These are also great activities we can share with our children
- Set goals – it's easy to lose track of the days in our current situation, so it can be helpful to set daily and weekly goals to give us a sense of control and purpose. Examples might be setting a goal of walking for half an hour at least 3 times this week or reading a new book
- Connect with the outdoors – depending on where you live, it may not be possible to spend time outside. If you don't have a garden or terrace, you can still open a window to let some fresh air and sunlight in. Put a comfortable chair by the window so you can look outside and get some air as you read a book
- Talk to someone – during this difficult time, sharing with family and friends how you're feeling and what you're doing to cope can be helpful for both you and them. There are also helplines you can call for support – we've included a list at the end of this pack
- Learning a new skill- A great way to release feel good hormones is by learning a new skill. Imagine how great you will feel when you look back on isolation and you have learnt to play an instrument, a new language or some handy DIY skills. Get the family to pick one life skill each and work towards achieving it by the end of lockdown.

- Try a Mindfulness exercise – if your time is very limited you might like to try one of the very short exercises available on the Local Offer for SEND here.

Things to do

Activities to do as a Family

- Build a paddling pool- Use this time to create some memories with the family, set your children the challenge to create a homemade paddling pool. All you need is a spade, plastic sheeting and water. I warn you this task will get messy!
- Outdoor cinema – Using a laptop/tablet or TV create an outdoor snug with blankets and pillows and lots of sweet treats, pick a family fav film and you have an outdoor cinema evening
- Camping- Use this lovely weather as an opportunity to camp in the garden, you can create a fort or use a tent if you have one
- Exercise together- Use daily exercise as a way to connect as a family, start the day off by completing a piece of exercise together. The following are a great way to access workouts and challenges you can all take part in.
- Family Come dine with me- As a family each member of the family has a cooking night where they have to cook a dinner and provide after dinner entertainment (card game, film, performance act) you then rate the overall performance. It's a great way to get some healthy competition within the family

Out and about with children

Many of the activities and outings which might normally be helpful for children with disabilities and special needs, are unavailable this year although some venues are offering virtual alternatives.

As more venues open up as lockdown relaxes we hope that more options will become available. Updated details will be added to the Our Voice news pages when we hear more, and you should also check individual websites for the latest information.. As numbers of visitors at attractions will be limited, and numbers will therefore be lower than normal, some parents may find that it is easier than usual for their children to enjoy some mainstream attractions during regular opening.

If you want to check whether a particular venue might be suitable for your family to visit, the Accessable website gives detailed guidance on a wide number of areas across the UK including many Enfield and Central London venues, and other nearby areas.

How to Talk to Your Child about What's Happening

No matter how calmly you manage the current environment, children are likely to be anxious, so it's important to talk to them about what's happening. Children often pick up information from their friends, the news and from listening to adults around them, but they may misunderstand what they are hearing.

Talking to Children:

- Deal with the news head-on and talk about it openly and calmly, giving them the facts
- Give them information appropriate to their age and level of understanding. Some of the resources above may be helpful, or you could look at the BBC Newsround hub.
- Teach them how to know if information they find on the internet is reliable. Explain how some stories on social media may be based on rumours or inaccurate information
- Encourage them to take breaks from listening to or reading the news – overexposure isn't helpful
- Encourage questions - this will give them the confidence to reach out.
- Be reassuring but honest when answering questions – it's ok if you don't have all the answers
- Be ready to answer the same question over and over – children tend to repeat themselves when they're feeling uncertain or worried, so you might have to answer the same questions more than once as they seek extra reassurance
- Be a role model:
  - Recognise and manage your own worries first
  - Be open about your own feelings and let them know it's normal to be concerned – for example, let them know you're also finding the news a bit worrying and what you're doing to stay calm
- Explain how our body's immune system protects us
  - It's constantly working against germs without us knowing. We can't and don't need to control this process
  - Explain that we're taking precautions against this particular germ because it's a new one which our bodies haven't come across before
  - Remind them how important it is that they eat healthy food, sleep and exercise, as this helps to fight germs
  - If it helps, reassure them that the effects of this virus on healthy young people are very mild
- Keep doing your bit to help children reduce the spread of germs
  - Remind them to maintain good hygiene like bathing daily and wearing fresh clothes
  - Encourage them to sing 'happy birthday' twice when they're washing their hands

For older children:

- Older children will have the same anxieties about their own health and that of their family and friends as younger children. But they're also likely to feel socially isolated, and worried about the result of school closures on their education and what life will be like after the pandemic is over.
- Encourage them to maintain social ties – relationships are especially important for older children, so give them room to keep in touch with their friends
- Equip them with accurate information – for example Mythbusters from the World Health Organization. <https://www.who.int/emergencies/diseases/novel-coronavirus-2019/advice-for-public/myth-busters>

If your child is anxious about the situation:

- See section above on Taking care of your child's mental health
- Share tools to help them manage anxiety.
- Some children are naturally more anxious, such as those with existing phobias or obsessive-compulsive disorders. The current situation can make those anxieties worse.
- Get them to do activities such as counting, ordering and sorting tasks which can help them calm down;
- Encourage them to use relaxation techniques such as controlled breathing
- Look out for obsessive or compulsive behaviours and try to get ahead of them early by challenging unhelpful thoughts and assumptions
